	HOUSING CHOICE & STRUCTURE
1.	Housing Choice. Program participants choose the location and other features of their housing.	Participants have no choice in the location, decorating, furnishing, or other features of their housing and are assigned a unit.	Participants have little choice in location, decorating, and furnishing, and other features of their housing.	Participants have some choice in location, decorating, furnishing, and other features of their housing.	Participants have much choice in location, decorating, furnishing, and other features of their housing.
2a.	Housing Availability (Intake to move-in). Extent to which program helps participants move quickly into permanent housing units of their choosing.	Less than 55% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 4 months of entering the program.	55-69% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 4 months of entering the program.	70-84% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 4 months of entering the program.	85% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 4 months of entering the program.
2b.	Housing Availability (Voucher/subsidy availability to move-in). Extent to which program helps participants move quickly into permanent housing units of their choosing.	Less than 55% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 6 weeks of having a housing subsidy or receiving a voucher.	55-69% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 6 weeks of having a housing subsidy or receiving a voucher.	70-84% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 6 weeks of having a housing subsidy or receiving a voucher.	85% of program participants move into a unit of their choosing within 6 weeks of having a housing subsidy or receiving a voucher.
3.	Permanent Housing Tenure. Extent to which housing tenure is assumed to be permanent with no actual or expected time limits, other than those defined under a standard lease or occupancy agreement.	There are rigid time limits on the length of stay in housing such that participants are expected to move by a certain date or the housing is considered emergency, short-term, or transitional.	There are standardized time limits on housing tenure, such that participants are expected to move when standardized criteria are met.	There are individualized time limits on housing tenure, such that participants can stay as long as necessary, but are expected to move when certain criteria are met.	There are no expected time limits on housing tenure, although the lease agreement may need to be renewed periodically.
4.	Affordable Housing. Extent to which participants pay a reasonable amount of their income for housing costs.	Participants pay 61% or more of their income for housing costs.	Participants pay 46-60% or less of their income for housing costs.	Participants pay 31-45% or less of their income for housing costs.	Participants pay 30% or less of their income for housing costs.

			criminal justice system.
8.	No Program Contingencies of Tenancy. Extent to which continued tenancy is not linked in any way with adherence to clinical, treatment, or service provisions.	Participants can keep housing only by meeting many requirements for continued tenancy, such as sobriety, abstinence from drugs, medication compliance, symptom stability, no violent behavior, or involvement in the criminal justice system.	Participants can keep housing with some requirements for continued tenancy, such as participation in formal services or treatment activities (attending groups, seeing a psychiatrist).	Participants can keep housing with minimal requirements for continued tenancy such as compliance with their treatment plan and meeting individual clinical or behavioral standards.	Participants can keep their housing with no requirements for continued tenancy, other than adhering to a standard lease and seeing staff for a face- to-face visit once a week.
9.	Standard Tenant Agreement. Extent to which program participants have legal rights to the unit with no special provisions added to the lease or occupancy agreement.	Participants have no written agreement specifying the rights and responsibilities of tenancy and have no legal recourse if asked to leave their housing.	Participants have a written agreement (such as a lease or occupancy agreement) which specifies the rights and responsibilities of tenancy, but contains special provisions regarding adherence to clinical provisions (e.g., medication compliance, sobriety, treatment plan).	Participants have a written agreement (such as a lease or occupancy agreement) which specifies the rights and responsibilities of tenancy, but contains special provisions regarding adherence to program rules (e.g., requirements for being in housing at certain times, no overnight visitors).	Participants have a written agreement (such as a lease or occupancy agreement) which specifies the rights and responsibilities of typical tenants in the community and contains no special provisions other than agreeing to meet with staff face-to-face once a week.
10.	Commitment to Re-House. Extent to which the program offers participants who have lost their housing access to a new housing unit.	Program does not offer participants who have lost their housing a new housing unit nor assist with finding housing outside the program.	Program does not offer participants who have lost housing a new unit, but assists them to find housing outside the program.	Program offers participants who have lost their housing a new unit, but only if they meet readiness requirements, complete a period of time in more supervised housing, or the program has set limits on the number of relocations.	Program offers participants who have lost their housing a new unit. Decisions to re- house participants are 1) individualized, 2) consumer-driven, 3) minimize conditions that participants need to fulfill prior to receiving a new unit, 4) safeguard participant well-being, and 4) there are no universal limits on the number of possible relocations.

11.	Services Continue Through Housing Loss. Extent to which program participants continue receiving services even if they lose housing.	Participants are discharged from program services if they lose housing for any reason. (Services are contingent on staying in housing)	Participants are discharged from services if they lose housing, but there are explicit criteria specifying options for re- enrollment, such as completing a period of time in inpatient treatment.	Participants continue to receive program services if they lose housing, but may be discharged if they do not meet "housing readiness" criteria.	Participants continue to receive program services even if they lose housing due to eviction, short-term inpatient treatment, although there may be a service hiatus during institutional stays.
12a.	Off-site Services. Extent to which social and clinical service providers are not located at participant's residences.	Social and clinical service providers are based on-site 24/7.	Social and clinical service providers are based on- site during the day.	Social and clinical service providers are based off- site, but maintain an office on-site.	Social and clinical service providers are based off-site and do not maintain any offices on-site.
12b.	Mobile services. Extent to which social and clinical service providers are mobile and can deliver services to locations of participants' choosing.	The program has no mobility to deliver services at locations of participants' choosing.	The program has limited mobility to deliver services at locations of participants' choosing.	The program is generally capable of providing mobile services to locations of participants' choosing.	The program is extremely mobile and fully capable of providing services to locations of participants' choosing.
13.	SERVICE PHILOSOPHY Service choice. Extent to which program participants choose the type, sequence, and intensity of services on an ongoing basis.	Services are chosen by the service provider with no input from the participant.	Participants have little say in choosing, modifying, or refusing services.	Participants have some say in choosing, modifying, or refusing services and supports.	Participants have the right to choose, modify, or refuse services and supports at any time, except one face-to- face visit with staff a week.

Item	Criterion	1	2	3	4
	Program uses an array of techniques to engage consumers who are difficult to engage, including (1) motivational interventions to engage consumers in a more collaborative manner, and (2) therapeutic limit-setting interventions where necessary, with a focus on instilling autonomy as quickly as possible. In addition to applying this range of interventions, (3) the program has a thoughtful process for identifying the need for assertive engagement, measuring the effectiveness of these techniques, and modifying approach where necessary.	strategies of assertive engagement.	assertive engagement strategies.	systematic in its use of a variety of individualized assertive engagement strategies OR does not systematically identify and evaluate the need for various types of strategies.	uses a variety of individualized assertive engagement strategies and systematically identifies and evaluates the need for various types of strategies.
19	Absence of Coercion. Extent to which the program does not engage in coercive activities towards participants.	Program routinely uses coercive activities with participants such as leveraging housing or services to promote adherence to clinical provisions or having excessive intrusive surveillance of participants.	Program sometimes uses coercive activities with participants and there is no acknowledgement that these practices conflict with participant autonomy and principles of recovery.	Program sometimes uses coercive activities with participants, but staff acknowledge that these practices may conflict with participant autonomy and principles of recovery.	Program does not use coercive activities such as leveraging housing or services to promote adherence to clinical provisions or having excessive intrusive surveillance with participants.
